High School Expansion Needed

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Three Cheers For the Red, White & Blue!

A welcome innovation in patriotism comes with the February issue of the Reader's Digest. It is a self-adhesive replica of Old Glory designed to be put on windows — from the inside. The brilliantly-hued flag is about 3"x5" and distribution is said to be the largest ever made of the flag.

It is a timely project since the birthdays of two great presidents — Lincoln and Washington — are in February.

RD says there is a growing national trend to display the flag.

We hope their research is better than ours. A cursory look about the nation torn with riots, disrespect for authority, and a frighteningly low moral level, leads us to believe the upsurge is yet to come. Maybe RD and its thoughtful gesture will start it.

The flag, as everyone knows, is flown to show we are proud to be Americans and that as Americans it is our duty and privilege to carry forward the Founding Fathers' dream. We should do that proudly.

RD is distributing about 18 million of the flags and reminds that the 3x5-inch flag is small by comparison — at least by comparison with the largest free-flying flag in the United States. That one is a 60' x 90' flag flown over the George Washington Bridge on holidays.

One reason there is cause for concern regarding patriotism is wrapped in a move which re-occurs in Congress from time to time. It would do away with all Presidential holidays and substitute a single day — one to be called Presidents' Day.

When that happens a big hunk of patriotic plasma will flow down the tubes as our patriots become faceless creatures in a dim lit past.

So hurray for RD's flag project. Stick 'em on your front window, or on one of the side windows of your auto. More can be obtained from RD for about a nickel each in quantities.

And hurray for the Red, White and Blue! Long may it wave!!

Abortions for Everywoman

The State Supreme Court this week will take a look at the State's abortion laws.

The case will be heard on the action of a doctor who was convicted several years ago on a charge of performing an abortion.

It is said by the legal profession — and many members of the medical arts — that the laws on abortion are a mess.

There is also national pressure being exerted to come to grips with the situation by legalizing it.

As this study was being made it was too early to ascertain what the State Supreme Court would decide. But the determination of a National Conference on Abortion Laws just a few days ago in Chicago left a positive sense of direction. Several San Diego women attended the Conference and a report was filed with this newspaper.

More than 350 delegates from 36 states took part in the conference under the theme of "Abortion Law Reform: Modification or Repeal."

Most of the speakers — and they were nationally recognized in their fields — agreed that the current abortion practices, both legal and illegal, are economically discriminatory. The poor are denied legal abortion care at a much greater rate than the middle class and the well-to-do, and they cannot afford to find good illegal care, they charged.

The Conference decided that improperly performed abortions have become "one of this country's most critical public health problems." Also spotlighted was the fact that abortion laws, created mostly by male legislators, deny a woman her fundamental right to control her own life.

Another point the Conference made strongly is that opposition to abortion is a matter of religious belief, and the legal control of abortion therefore violates the Constitutional principle of separation of church and state.

After two full days of confab, the Conference adopted a resolution that would change and legalize the mother-unwanted baby relationship.

It would: Make the decision on abortion free of legal encumbrances so that women and their physicians may be able to exercise their best judgments;

Permit all abortions to be voluntary, and

Subject abortions only to the general laws regulating licensure and practice.

Summed up, it says that compelling a woman to bear a child against her will violates her basic human right.

The Conference also urges the repeal of all abortion laws regarding those performed by licensed physicians.

Abortion services, the Conference insists, must be made available to all women, regardless of economic status.

Following the Conference's resolution, a citizens' committee would be formed in all states backed by an organization for the repeal of the abortion law. A million dollar budget would be established for abortion study and legislative and constitutional reforms in all 50 states.

The Conference was no fly-by-night. It had such leaders as the Rev. Dr. Joseph Fletcher of the Harvard Divinity School, Norvall Morris of the U. of Chicago Law School, The Hon. Percy Sutton of Manhattan, N.Y., Betty Friedan of the National Organization for Women, Mrs. Marc Hughes Fisher of the National Council of Negro Women, Dr. Allen Guttmacher of Planned Parenthood-World Population, and Lawrence Lader, an author.

With a million dollars as a budget and with spokesmen in the fold like the above, it is likely that many people will learn more about the intricacies of the abortion problem than ever before.

New News Editor For Your Newspaper

By JOHN GRUBER JR.
News Editor

This space is usually rightfully reserved for the people and events making news in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. Next week it will again be used for that purpose.

Since this week's edition marks the start of a new News Editor for your paper, I thought I'd take a little space to say, "Hello, Lemon Grove-Spring Valley. It's good to be here!"

A few words of self-introduction are appropriate, I think, but I am hopeful of meeting many of you personally in the weeks to come after the news desk routine becomes familiar.

I am a transplant from the Midwest and have called sunny southern California home since 1962 — when I first came to the West. I cooperated with the "westward tilt" and I'm glad of it.

Your former News Editor, Jack Pollard, has introduced me to some of you, shown me some of the ropes and left me his files. I thank him for his help.

I'm glad to have the opportunity to work and grow with you, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley — here's hoping we both benefit in our endeavors.

District Orders 20 Portable Units

The Grossmont Union High School District Governing Board has approved a recommendation by the administration to lease 20 portable classroom units at a cost of approximately $50,000.

The portable units will be located at various sites in the school district to meet the pupil growth and expanded special programs according to district officials.

Leading the list is Mt. Miguel High School, which will get two portable units before September because of increased pupil growth.

Monte Vista High School is slated to receive one unit to house the Associated Student Body office, and another unit for room in the educationally handicapped program.

Other schools getting units include Granite Hills which will receive four units because of pupil growth and three units for rooms for central library services.

Another unit will be used for a home Study center at Granite Hills. Santana will receive three units because of pupil growth and one room for educationally handicapped classes.

The Grossmont Special Education center will get two units to house psychological services, while the remainder of the units will be located at El Cajon High School.

Estimated costs per unit for rental fees will be around $3,000. Four units can be leased from special fund income which will come from some $13,680 that will be generated in new income from the state.

Funds for the expansion of school rooms will come out of the $6 million bond issue that voters approved recently.

The district is going to borrow necessary money from the funds that have been designated for the construction of a ninth high school in the growing district.

The district does not expect to build the ninth high school until 1971.

At the current time, an opening date of Sept. 1972 has been indicated as a desireable date for the opening of the new school.

BONDING CAPACITY

In making the plans, it was calculated that the school district should have the bonding capacity to sell all approved bonds in the 1972-73 school year.

On this basis, total funds for the ninth school would not be available until the 1972-73 school year.

The district was pressed into selling all bonds that capacity would allow earlier this year, due to the threat of the Watson Amendment that would have curtailed bond issues.

The district plans to build the new plant with an ultimate capacity for 3,000 students and an opening capacity for 1,500 students.

Budget plans for initial construction have been estimated at $4 million. The school would include a comprehensive curricular program.

In other action taken Feb. 25 the Governing Board:

Approved the updating of the existing appraisal of the excess acreage on the Monte Vista High School site in preparation for future sale;

Received a report from the superintendent enumerating the long-range planning needs of the School District and, specifically, noting the need for a School District master plan culminating in a recommendation from the Board that a consultant advise the Board at a future meeting as to how his services might be employed for these purposes;

Approved Faculty Senate bills, to be placed in the tentative future budget, dealing with increases of program in the areas of swimming, counselor load, flexible scheduling, and summer school;

Approved long-distance student travel for El Cajon Valley High School Spanish students to Ensenada, Mexico, in March, 1969, for the purpose of visiting a secondary school in Ensenada and to visit the downtown stores and market place and other major cultural points of interest in the community.

Self Study First Need Says Scheidle

Non-Profit Corporation Urged For Community

County Supervisor Harry Scheidle spoke Friday to 35 members of the Lemon Grove Businessmen's Club.

Scheidle spoke at a luncheon-meeting held at Hom's Teapot Inn in Lemon Grove. He described the meeting as a "get acquainted period" and similar to a honeymoon, after which he hoped there would be a few love spats.

One purpose of the meeting was to determine what steps Lemon Grove businessmen and residents could take to improve the community and help guide its growth.

Scheidle made several suggestions including taking an inventory and feasibility study to determine where the community stands. He said once the data is gathered, "You can start to move."

Another suggestion to the Club was formation of a non-profit corporation. Scheidle said this would primarily be intended for property owners but would be open to all with the prime motive of improving the community.

An example of a successful corporation would be San Diego Incorporated which was responsible for the Community Concourse in downtown San Diego.

The inventory would concern land uses and deficiencies. The economic feasibility study would check into zoning — whether there is too much or too little.

Scheidle said that the corporation should be non-profit because it is to be a long term venture and this gives a source of funding for the people of Lemon Grove to do that which they want.

"Government can't solve all of them (Lemon Grove's problems) but it can help and supply the spearhead," Scheidle said. He offered to meet again with the Lemon Grove businessmen and suggested that they might form their own committee and hold meetings.

Later Scheidle added that "community involvement is one of the essentials — it is a case of developing priorities."

Streets, potholes, sidewalks and curbs were among items mentioned which needed attention in Lemon Grove.

Supervisor's Visit To Be Reviewed by Club

Cliff Clark, president of the Lemon Grove Men's Club said Tuesday that an "open forum" type meeting has been scheduled Friday, March 14 to consider the comments of Supervisor Harry Scheidle.

The meeting will be at noon at Hom's Tea Pot Inn.

Scheidle made his first public Lemon Grove appearance last week at the club and, according to most of the members, gave little hope or encouragement to the club that Lemon Grove's problems could be resolved by the Supervisors.

Scheidle's district is made up predominately of San Diego City voters.

He has announced a program by which some of the cost of county government can be shifted from city taxpayers to those in the county.

He told the Men's club Friday that his function in the county area was primarily that of a administrator rather than that of a troubleshooter.

The Men's club is open to any male without dues on a no-host luncheon basis.

Mentally Disturbed Home Approved For Lemon Grove

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A controversial special use permit for a family home care facility in Lemon Grove was granted on Friday by the county planning commission in Lemon Grove.

The permit which will allow Kay Smith to have six state supported boarders at 9032-34 Lemon st. The guests will be males with a history of mental disturbance who need supervision, but who are not actually under an official order.

The home is already in operation and John Cassidy, county zoning chief, said the operation, in so far as the number of people involved, is legal since the area is zoned for duplexes. He said that five unrelated adults can legally live in one dwelling unit and that there are two living units on the Smith property.

Neighbors testified that one resident exposed himself on one occasion and although he has since left the neighbors used this as one factor in their opposition.

One woman testified that her son has been in mental institutions, but that she still does not want to live close to disturbed people.

Community Service officials from the La Mesa branch testified that they attempt to place the people in homes without getting permits because of the difficulty of doing so.

Willey, commander of District one VFW, received an all-expense-paid trip to the Conference by leading his district to a 90% level of paid up members.

Of his district's 7,154 members, 6,809 had paid this year's dues by Jan. 30.

About 30 from 800 U.S. Districts won similar awards.

At the Conference which starts Friday VFW State officers will develop veterans legislation to be presented to congress. Officers from all 50 states will participate.

Season Rain Totals 14.27

The Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area is doing well under the impact of 14.27 inches of rain so far this season. Grass — and weeds — is growing in tropical fashion as the ground warms and dries.

At this same period last season the total was 8.17. As a matter of fact, only 11.87 inches fell all of last year.

During the past week the daily totals were: Feb. 24 — .27; 25 — .24; 26 — .46; March 1 — .21 and 4 — .06 according to Donald Norvell, local fire department meteorologist.

Subscription List Keeps Growing Larger

This week's 78 new subscribers brings the total for the Home of Guiding Hands campaign to 1,441.

Each week this newspaper lists the families who have become subscribers so that a portion of the subscription fee may be given to the Home.

The total circulation of the combined editions of the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin is just under ten thousand. A major portion of this circulation is delivered by mail.

Proceeds from the subscriptions drive is for a landscape project at the Home of Guiding Hands, at 10025 Los Coches rd., Lakeside. The Home cares for mentally-retarded — many of whom are children, and many of whom will never know another home.

The public is invited to visit the facility in Lakeside at any time, says Francis S. Bell, an executive of the Home.

The fund-raising campaign is nearing its end and it is re-

Always and Everywhere

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is far more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

'Meeting The People, Making New Friends, Marks Year Study In Australia By Sue Papike, AFS Student

By MARY BONNER

After living a year on a farm 70 miles from the nearest city, Colac, Victoria, in Australia as one of the American Field Service students, senior Sue Papike returned to Monte Vista High School on Jan. 16.

In the Australian accent that she had acquired during her year abroad she said, "The thing was meeting people, making friends, and living their type of life."

"One thing you'll discover is that the people there aren't different; they are exactly the same as we are," she said.

SUE PAPIKE

"Everyone was friendly and I got along fine with my family," she added. She had two sisters; one 17 and the other 13, that she was living with.

The biggest difference was in the school, according to Sue.

She attended Colac High School where there were students from grades 7 through 12 and everyone wore uniforms. There were few social events; just about three dances a year. "School was for study."

The entire school system was a great deal stricter and more difficult than in the United States.

"In the lower grades the students had to stand up when the teacher entered and say, "good morning."

Sue went on to say that the higher grade levels were more like college.

Throughout the year teachers would assign books to read and give lectures. "There wasn't much individual help given," she said. Tests were not issued and no homework was assigned to students.

TOUGH EXAMS

Exams were given for a period of three hours per subject at the end of the year made up by the state and corrected by university professors.

"Everything depended on the exam," Sue said. Students were given a week off before exams to study. I studied 12 hours a day and slept 12 hours a day."

There were two major divisions of study in the higher grades in the schools. They consisted of the humanities and the sciences.

"There were 37 of us in humanities, and only 13 students made the passing grade," she said.

Sue attended school from Feb. through Dec. of last year. She took four classes which included eighteenth century history, Australian history, English literature and English.

TEENAGERS ARE SAME

Teenagers in Australia differ little than those in the U. S. "They are all very athletic." On Saturday, the boys would play a type of football and the girls would play hocky, basketball or tennis. "Nearly everyone participated in sports," she added.

There are very few hippies in Australia. "None of the teenagers there use drugs, and they cannot understand why teenagers in the United States do so."

The drinking and driving ages are 18. There are both modern and old fashioned dances in which students can attend. "They have many more formal balls than we do," the MV teenager commented.

She said that Australians eat pretty much the same kinds of foods that Americans do. They eat more sweets though. "Their favorite dessert is roast pumpkin; it's beautiful," Sue said. "Fish and chips correspond to our hamburgers for the teenagers."

Not long before preparing to leave for American soil, Sue and 35 other exchange students from throughout the U. S. were taken on a tour through part of Australia.

It consisted of a 12-day bus trip and at night they stayed in the homes of people who welcomed them with parties given in their honor. "The people were all very nice to us and very welcoming," she said.

Upon returning home, Sue said that the amount of accent that she'd picked up had really surprised her. "At fi no one could understand m but now I've lost quite a bi of it."

She said that someday she would like to return to Australia. "It was a wonderful experience living on a farm," she said. "The pace of life is slower and you aren't as tied down."

Speaking of what she valued most from her year's stay she said, "The people. I loved meeting all of the people there, making so many friends and being with them because they were all so friendly and kind."

About the program in general, she said, "AFS is the most wonderful program imaginable.

Bancroft School Has International Night Dinner

"Guess who's coming to dinner?" was the theme of International Night, held Feb. 27, at the Bancroft School in Spring Valley.

Bancroft parents and staff donated home-cooked dishes of European, Oriental, Latin American, and American origin, for a family night of international pot-luck.

The affair was jointly sponsored by the staff and the PTA to raise funds for the Peace Corps School-to-School program.

The program was one under which any school here in the U. S. can raise from $800 to $1,000 to build a school in an underdeveloped area of the world, with the stipulation that the local people provide labor, clear title to the land, and their own teacher.

The dinner was followed by student entertainment and the Annual Founder's Day presentation.

ARMED FORCES NOTES

Spring Valley Soldier Spells Out Disaster To Viet Cong

DI AN, VIETNAM: When the "Jungle Eaters" of the 20th Engineer Brigade in Vietgo into action it spells disaster for the Viet Cong in that area.

But the most deadly weapon used by these rough and ready soldiers of the 60th Land Clearing Company is a bulldozer-tractor called a "Rome Plow."

Army Specialist Four William C. Long, son of Mrs. Josephine Long, 10416 Fairhill dr., Spring Valley, in a Rome Plow operator in this unit which recently celebrated a momentous occasion.

Climaxing a year and a half of round-the-clock toil, the company leveled its 100,000th acre of jungle growth in a road clearing operation between Phuoc Vinh and Song Be, an outpost deep in the Central Highlands.

The Rome Plows of the engineers were probably the first vehicles to penetrate this isolated region in more than ten years.

It has served as a Viet Cong stronghold, providing the enemy area for training, regrouping and re-supply.

Although Viet Cong bullets and mines were a constant threat, nature itself proved to be almost as unrelenting a foe.

Always, there was the dangerous snakes and insects, and even monkey bites as huge trees were felled and brush cleared away; finally, the searing jungle heat which was almost unbearable.

His father, Lieutenant William Long, is serving with the Navy.

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What are some phrases that can be used in a shopping situation? Does one bargain for obtaining a better price or is a fixed or firm price used by most Spanish speaking merchants?

An important phrase for shoppers who are unable to find a price tag on merchandise is "Que precio es?" (What price is it?). There are several ways by which a response to this question may be made. An attendant may say "Vale Cuatro dolares." (It is worth four dollars.) or the response may be "El precio es cinco pesos." (The price is five pesos.) Other responses could be "Es un precio caro." (It is an expensive price.) or "Es un precio barato." (It is a cheap price.).

Another phrase used by shoppers is "Cuanto cuesta?" (How much does it cost?). A response to this may be "Cuesta muy poco." or "Cuesta mucho." (It cost a lot.).

More and more, the custom of bargaining seems to be disappearing. At one time this friendly art was practiced throughout most of the Spanish speaking world. Today it is more common to hear such phrases as "Los precios son fijos." (The prices are firm.) or "No se puede cambiar los precios." (The prices can not be changed.) This new trend of "precios fijos" may save much time over the old method of bargaining but much of the satisfying conversation that was a part of making a purchase has also disappeared.

The practice phrases listed below may be used in a shopping situation. See if you can learn to say them with the help of the recorded voice that will lead you in the pronouncing of them when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

May Protect Fish Boats Says Van

WASHINGTON — The White House is pondering a suggestion by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, that U.S. Marines "ride shotgun" on American fishing boats operating off Latin America.

In a letter to President Nixon, Van Deerlin said the assignment of small detachments of Marines to the boats would make would-be attackers have "second thoughts."

"They would know that any hostility toward a fishing vessel would constitute an act of aggression against the United States itself," he said.

In the past eight years some 75 U.S. tunaboats, most of them from San Diego, have been seized, fired upon and otherwise harassed off the west coasts of Cenral and South America. Peru and Ecuador, each claiming exclusive fishing rights up to 200 miles off their coasts, have been the primary offenders. The United States and most other seafaring nations recognize only a 12-mile limit.

Van Deerlin praised the efforts of the U.S. Government to achieve a negotiated solution to the fishing rights controversy. "But until such a solution is found," he advised Mr. Nixon, "our boats will continue to be attacked — if the recent past is any indication."

South American Youth Elected As Junior High President

Students at Palm Junior High School in Lemon Grove have elected a South American boy as president of their school.

Rafael Angel, 13-years-old, who is studying at the Lemon Grove school for the remainder of the year was elected to that post two weeks ago by the students.

Sweeping changes which include more school dances and a personal secretary for the new school president have been placed at the top of Rafael's list of priorities.

He said that he would take these matters up before the school's student council. He also said that he will recommend more days marked for special activities.

Rafael, who is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Putnam and their daughter Suzy, at 3055 Crane, Lemon Grove said that he is very impressed with American democracy.

He will now get a real taste of the democratic way in American life as he carries out his term of office.

The young bi-lingo student came to the United States to visit with the Putnam family in November.

He was then enrolled in Palm Jr. High after being invited to stay for the remainder of the school year.

Rafael said that he is very impressed with the reception of his fellow students and the teachers. He said that they have helped him a great deal in his schoolwork.

RAFAEL ANGEL

The student, who attended an English speaking school in his home at Medellin, Columbia, said that this experience is the greatest thing that he has ever done in his life.

While attending his hometown school, Rafael said that Spanish was taken as a native tongue but that classes such as History, Geography and others were discussed and taught in English.

Rafel and his family played host to Suzie Putnam throughout the summer months last year. She left the United States shortly after graduation from Palm Junior High.

MUTUAL FRIENDS

The two students were introduced through a mutual friend. One of Rafael's teachers in South America came to the United States to talk with friends about conducting a student exchange.

A six month correspondence developed between Rafel's parents and the Putnams. Rafael's father, a clothing manufacturer invited Suzy to Columbia on the first part of the exchange.

Rafael will speak to the Palm Jr. High PTA group tonight at 7:30 p.m., along with a group of American Field Service exchange students from Mt. Miguel.

The young South American, with five sisters and one brother said, "Ever since I have been here, I have not felt like a stranger. The kids are very friendly at the school."

Rafael along with the Putnams have been taking in many local attractions, including a trip to Disneyland last Friday.

He said, "When I return to my home in Columbia in June, I will never forget the greatest thrill of my life, and how I have been so warmly received here, and my being elected president of the school".

Mt. Miguel Exchange Student Will Study in Salta, Argentina

Cheryl Mosteller, a junior at Mt. Miguel High School, has been chosen by AFS head quarters in New York to study in Argentina as an exchange student.

Given only four-weeks' notice before her departure, Cheryl left Tuesday, Feb. 18 for the city of Salta, capital of the province of Salta, on the northeast edge of the Andes.

"I was stunned when I first learned that I was actually going," Cheryl said. "Then that reaction was followed by excitement, anticipation, fear, hope, question; I'm not sure I really grasp the whole thing yet."

Cheryl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mosteller of 2110 Main st., Lemon Grove, will return to Mt. Miguel next February to finish her senior year.

Thomas S. Clayton To Head L.G. Rotary

A new corp of officers was elected by the Lemon Grove Rotary club, Molly Mouilleseaux, current president announced.

Elected president is Col. (U.S. ret) Thomas S. Clayton, who is also immediate past commander-in-chief of the Military Order of the World Wars. Lyle Stumbaugh, CPA, is vice president and Charles Hesser, former state commander of VFW, is secretary.

Officers will be installed the last week in June and take office the first meeting in July.

CHP Assigned To City Freeways

Recent legistation and agreements with the City of San Diego has put traffic enforcement and accident investigation on city freeway system under the jurisdiction of the California Highway Patrol.

A major phase in assuming this responsibility began Mar. 1. On this date the California Highway Patrol began patroling Interstate 5, including the center city area and all Interstate 8 including the interchange of these two routes near Old Town.

Because prompt response of emergency aid to the public depends largely on prompt and accurate reporting, CHP is attempting to make widest possible distribution of the Zenith 1-2000 emergency traffic telephone number.

Ferry Boats To Be Sold For High Bid

Three ferry boats known to millions of servicemen and tourists will be sold to high bidders this spring by the State of California.

They are the San Diego, the Coronado and the Crown City, now plying the waters of San Diego Bay, carrying passengers and automobiles back and forth to Coronado.

Their days are numbered by a huge new bridge arching high above the Bay in a graceful curve — the San Diego Coronado Bay Bridge, which will open to traffic about July 1.

The State, in order to get the most favorable terms for a revenue bond issue to build a toll bridge, requires that there be no competing mode of vehicular transportation. So, when the California Toll Bridge Authority authorized the $47,600,000 bond issue November 15, 1966, it included the decision to dispose of the ferries.

Water Topic at Club

Ron Bippert, Education Representative for the Helix Irrigation District, will speak to the Spring Valley Woman's Club at its meeting on Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Memory Lane Community Center in Spring Valley.

His topic "Lifeline" will be augmented by movies of the water situation in Southern California. Members' questions will be answered during the tea hour.

IRS Says File Returns To Utah Service Center

Federal income tax returns should no longer be filed with the Internal Revenue Service district office at Los Angeles, but with the IRS Service Center, Ogden, Utah 84405.

This applies both to tax returns with remittances and those with refunds due, according to officials.

The IRS Western Region, which includes Calif., is the latest to require direct filing of all income tax returns with IRS regional service centers, under a law enacted Nov. 2, 1966.

Direct filing of returns will eliminate initial handling at the district office, where they are packaged and shipped to Ogden, Utah for processing.

Direct filing will in no way curtail services taxpayers have been accustomed to receiving from the IRS district office.

Helix Cagers Win CIF Championship Downing Madison

By Don Kiener

The Helix varsity basketball team captured the CIF crown last Saturday by dumping Madison, 87-72, for their 29th win in 31 starts, and 16th straight triumph.

The victory made the Scots the only school in San Diego area history to have won three such titles. They won the crown in 1963-64 and 65-66, and entered the finals last year only to lose to Grossmont League rival Mt. Miguel, 69-55.

"Last year I was hoping we could win knowing that it was a longshot," said Highlander coach Gordon Nash. "This time we realized that we were the ones to beat and that if we played good ball no one could do it."

Helix, the top-seeded team in the county, lived up to their own expectations, disposing of Hoover (76-41), Kearny (70-57), and Castle Park (68-40), en route to the finale with the Warhawks.

Against Madison, the Scots led throughout the game after jumping to leads of 10-5 and 26-13 in the first quarter. There were times of doubt, however, as Bill Walton, 6-foot-9½-inch junior center, was in foul trouble throughout the game. He fouled out in the fourth quarter after missing 10 minutes of the second half. Forward Dave Unroe had similar problems, and also left the game shortly after Walton.

Three Warhawks, (Phil Edwards, Dennis Dascenzo, and Mike Cohen) also fouled out in a game hampered by 42 fouls.

The strong Helix bench bolstered the team effort as Dan Coleman, Butch Paddock, and Mike Dupree each came in to help increase the Scottie lead from 46-37 to 67-57.

The well-balanced Highlander attack was led by senior guard Bruce Menser, who canned 22 points. He was followed by Bruce Walton (15), Unroe (13), Bill Walton (13) and Coleman (10).

"Coleman was brilliant and I can't say enough about Menser," said Nash, "He controlled the game when those two (Bill Walton and Unroe) were out."

The Scots, who have only four seniors on the team (Bruce Walton, Unroe, Menser, and Mike Getz) are looking forward to next year for an equally strong team.

"We'll be strong and so will several teams in our league," said Nash. "Castle Park will be packed and the city clubs are always strong," Nash added.

Returning for next year's squad are Bill Walton, Paddock, Dupree, Randy Madsen (all juniors), and sophomore Coleman, all of whom have seen considerable action this season.

Wayne Comfort won the high jump with a 5-9 effort. The Monarchs then scored a sweep in the long jump with Jim Bristol winning with a 20-4 leap. Bill Worden and Royal Dieter followed for Monte Vista.

All-CIF performer Pat Foley took the shot put with a toss of 57-9 3/4. The Monarch mile relay team then assured the triumph with a win in the event in 3:39.9.

Monarch Matmen Take CIF Crown In Undefeated Year

By Scott McGaugh

Danny Kida, Monte Vista High School's premier wrestler, captured his fourth straight CIF Championship last week to lead the Monarchs who won the team championship with 100 points. Helix followed with 89 points and Mt. Miguel placed third with 74 tallies.

Other winners for the Monarchy besides Kida were Larry Millard at 141 pounds, Dennis Weikel at 157 pounds and John Tancil in the heavyweight division.

Gary Nutting took second at 123 pounds as did Ted Fleury at 136. Bob Skidmore placed third at 141.

The CIF Championship capped a phenomenal season for the Monarchs. They were 7-0 in league, and didn't lose a non-league match. They had several undefeated wrestlers and won every tournament in which they entered during and before the season.

CROSS COUNTRY. Scenes like this can thrill cross country fans. This sport demands much stamina. Runner is straining to get the best possible time. Glory is often absent, but harriers and fans find the event rewarding.

Cross Country Is Unheralded; Its Action Holds Fan Interest

By John Nicholson

At a quick glance, most sports fans might ask . . . "What is cross country?"

It is a forgotten battleground for the high school athlete — the tough two-mile cross country course.

It is here that they fight for the school's honor and its name. The grinding duel takes place while only a handful of spectators witness the battle.

It is hard to tell if the fans are there to watch the cross country race or not. Junior varsity football games are often going on at the same time as the long run.

Few sports enthusiasts know that cross country is a great sport — as great as any other that is popular in high schools throughout the nation today.

How many know that the CIF finals were run last night at Santana High School? No very many.

According to Ted Banks coach of Mt. Miguel's Harriers, there is no social setting that looms over the long, enduring path on which the fleet-footed students find their way.

There are no cheerladers, no dances after the meets, and the uniforms that are paid for out of the school budget are much more simple than the glory-packed, dazzling attire that footballers are seen in.

Mike Curran, of Monte Vista's cross country phenom (Finishing as one of the top teams in the Grossmont League for the last 11 years), adds that it is difficult to see the whole course without running along for at least part of the way.

Remarked one fan at a recent meet: "Watching these darn things is almost as hard as running them!"

Curran has experimented with pep assemblies and newsletters in efforts to gain publicity for his deserving crew, and has had some success with the program.

"For another thing," adds Dick Wilkins, Granite Hills' new coach, "It occurs during the football season."

"There is a great deal of competition for the glory and recognition that one can get by becoming a football hero," he said.

Another problem revolves around the fact that most fans "don't have the insight or understanding of the amount of work that goes into the making of a successful cross country team," insists Coach Banks.

Dick Tomlinson, a former cross country coach at Mt. Miguel, said, "There is nothing there to excite the fans!"

Tomlinson favors a more confined area in which the athletes would run. He said that more obstacles, such as water jumps, could stimulate fan interest. He also noted that night meets might appeal to the fans, for in the past, meets have been run between halves at football games with lots of success.

Of course, there are problems with these ideas, but none are such that they could not be worked out. Who knows, maybe cross country will start gaining popularity next year?

Helix Wrestlers Take Second Place In CIF Competition

By Tom Warren

Sparked by upset victories by Mark Whillock and Chris Ehrentraut, the Helix wrestling team captured second place in the county CIF championships held last Friday at UCSD.

The Highlanders finished with a total of 73 points in the competition, second only to the Monte Vista grapplers who finished with 100. Monte Vista's squad has been called "one of the best ever in San Diego County history."

It was the highest CIF finish for a Helix wrestling squad, and the total number of points was a record high for the Scotties in the competition. The previous highs were set by last year's team, which took fourth place with 46 points.

Leading the Highlanders this year were Whillock (148), Ehrentraut (157), (both juniors) and senior Larry Davidson (136), all first place finishers in their respective weight classes.

They were backed up by Mitch Steinauer, who took second place in the 98 pound class, and Tim Shaeffer (115), Billy Vaughn (130), and Dale Sauter (168), who took third place honors.

"The boys gave an outstanding performance," said Highlander wrestling coach Bob Lucas. "They did a better job than most people thought they would. In most years 73 points would be enough for first, so I'm quite pleased. It's a great way to go out."

The coach was referring to the fact that he is stepping down after this year as wrestling coach after 5 years to "concentrate on baseball." He is currently JV baseball coach at the school, and was a three-year letterman in the sport at San Diego State College.

Lucas also noted with a sense of satisfaction that "there is starting to be some pride in being a Helix wrestler. I think that's the reason the school has done so much better in wrestling during recent years, he said. More boys are trying out for the team and they are taking more of an interest in it."

Skaters have been selected from competition which ended last week at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Only one exhibition will be given in each of the 15 cities being visited by the skaters in Canada and the United States. Among the skating stars will be Gold and Silver Medal winners in the 1969 World Figure Skating Championships as well as European, North American and national champions selected from 95 competitors in the world events.

East County Fair Space Selling Well

Although the Eastern San Diego County Fair doesn't open its doors for two months, space in the exhibit tent for the five day Fair is already over 50 per cent sold, according to Roy Garlett, Fair exhibit chairman.

Sponsored by the El Cajon JayCees at Gillespie Field, May 28-June 1, the 17th annual Eastern San Diego County Fair promises to break last year's 80,000 person attendance record.

Last year, the Fair drew more 4-H and Future Farmer livestock entries than the Southern California Exposition at Del Mar. And this year, stock exhibitors will also have cash premiums to aim for, in addition to trophies and ribbons, plus a top dollar bringing auction at the fourth day of the Fair.

Local Art Displayed

The Lemon Grove County Library, 7735 Pacific ave. will have on exhibit through March 29, oil paintings by Mina and Ken Hostetler. The Hostetlers are residents of Spring Valley. Both have exhibited their work widely, and won ribbons in local competitions.

School Community Leaders Evaluate Drug Problem

A narcotics and drugs unit conducted by school and community leaders is now being evaluated after being completed last week at the Spring Valley Junior High School, according to Harl J. Brown, principal.

The unit involved about 600 seventh graders during a three-week period and was highlighted by four assemblies conducted by guest speakers of the community.

The students also met five times in small discuussion groups to ask quuestions, make comments and talk about the drug abuse problems with their adult leaders.

The basic purpose of the unit is to promote the development of attitudes which will direct students away from illegal use of harmful drugs and narcotics.

Leaders of the discussion groups have met regularly to review the program and evaluate its progress.

A post-unit test, designed to measure knowledge and attitudes, is being administered this week to student, said Brown.

The results will be compared with those of a pre-unit test given with the aid of William Schell, director of instructional materials. Schell served as the consultant on the project.

Brown said the school-wide activity stemmed from a project undertaken by Ed Dion and Don Byrne, science teachers.

About 350 students in their classes participated in the total program. Another 300 seventh graders attended the assemblies which were a part of the unit.

The unit was designed to help pupils become better informed about narcotics and druggs, and their correct and improper use. Effects of narcotics and drugs on the body and laws regarding their use were also studied, Brown said.

Resource people who talked to the students in the assemblies included Dr. Tom Webster, local physician; Sid Cole, San Diego County Probation Officer, Pastor Jimmy Johnson, Skyline Wesleyan Methodist Church; Sgt. Bill Cook, La Mesa Police Department; Ronald Svalstad, local attorney; Jack Evans, San Diego County prison worker; Jack Davis, San Diego County Probation Department; Chuck Greer, a high school student; and Robert King, vice principal of Monte Vista High School.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I am down right mad. How utterly disgusting and insulting can things get?

There should be no quuestion what so ever in regard to commnists speaking on any Campus. To me Freedom of speech does not go to the extent of one trying to undermine in a smooth talking way to overthrow one's government, thus taking away our precious right of same.

Communists do not have this precious item called Freedom of speech.

So why should they have the right to speak free in our homeland, while precious American lives are being lost fighting in Viet Nam?

You people who have given up your precious American Right and have chosen your dead end way called communists, what do you have? I'll tell you what you have, you have it their way or else. Who you trying to kid?

But I am not an unreasonable man if you like to live the communist way you think it's so wonderful, I do not think you should be deprived of doing just that.

The U.S. has given aid and helped a lot of communists in the past, so myself being a part of this U.S. I guess I can give a little away too.

So I will tell you what I would like to do as I am a guy that likes to make others happy.

So if you want the communists way, fine, they have it in Red China, Russia, just take your pick. And I shall see if I can not arrange for a battle ship and a couple of oars, so you can be on your way.

Sincerely,
John W. Coyle

Registrations Mount At Grossmont Junior College For April Biomedical Conference

Registration and exhibitor applications for the Grossmont College Conference on Biomedical Technology and Manpower scheduled for April 1, 2, and 3 are coming in from points as far distant as New Jersey, Missouri, and Texas.

Applications are also being received from throughout Southern California as well as from local individuals and manufacturers, Harold G. Hughes, Grossmont College preident, said.

"Highly qualified and nationally known doctors, industrialists, and educators have confirmed that they will appear on the three-day program for the conference," he said.

"Dr. Joseph Stokes III of the University of California at San Diego School of Medicine has done a very effective job in lining up competent leadership for the conference discussions."

A major factor behind the meetings, Dr. Stokes said, is the pressing need for better communications between the medical profession and the designers of electronic and other semiautomated equipment for the hospitals.

Critically needed in the immediate future, he added, will be technicians to complete the medical teams as well as improved teaching, internship, and certification procedures to upgrade the quality of these technicians.

Dr. Richard M. Magrew, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare will deliver the keynote address, "The Medical Team—Myth or Reality?", while Dr. Stokes will give a thermatic talk on "The Physician's Assistant — A New Health Profession?".

Organization of the medical team is one of the main topics selected for a panel discussion on the opening day of the conference.

Noted industrialists such as B. F. Coggan, vice president, North American Rockwel Corporation. and Dr. C. Lester Hogan, Fairchild Semi-Conductor Company, will lead studies among industry representatives in matters relating to design and supply of complete systems to meet the equipment needs of the vastly expanding network of hospitals and medical establishments.

Kenneth Skaggs, American Association of Junior Colleges, and Leland Baldwin, Chief Vocational-Technical Education for California Community Colleges, will join other specially qualified speakers in consideration of curriculum and technician training.

Among speakers and panelists taking part in discussions in this area will be Dr. Kenneth L. Briney, Executive Director, California Health Manpower Council; Erv Metzgar, Vice President for Instructional Services, Grossmont College; John Moore, Administrator, University-County Hospital, and Miss Barbara Brody, M.P.H., Regional Medical Program for San Diego and Imperial Counties. Captain J. H. Bing, MSC U. S. Navy will present techniques and experiences of training from the viewpoint of the U. S. Naval Hospital's big Hospital Corpsmen School administration.

The conference is co-sponsored by the San Diego Symposium for Biomedical Engineering in cooperation with the University of California at San Diego School of Medicine and University-County Hospital; San Diego Chapter, Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers: and the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Registration applications and additional details regarding the conference may be obtained from Willard Dellegar or Charles M. Hatcher at Grossmont College; Dr. Joseph Stokes, Department of Community Medicine, University of California at San Diego School of Medicine; and Commander William Tandy, MSC U.S.N. U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego.

Buses To Get Two-Way Radios

Installation of a two-way radio and emergency signalling device on all San Diego Transit Corporation buses came a little closer to reality when the final bid from the nation's leading communications manufacturers was received by Transit General Manager Tom Prior this week.

"These radio devices will be installed as soon as all financial arrangements are completed," Prior said, adding that the receipt of this last bid culminated "many months of painstaking work."

He said the radio alarm system was being installed to protect the public as well as drivers and would be operative at all times a bus is in service and away from San Diego Transit's operations center at 15th and "L" sts.

In heavy traffic conditions, where congestion was building up, a driver could advise a supervisor of the situation and at the same time ask to be rerouted around the problem instead of having to wait for the congestion to be cleared, he said.

Prior said where a traffic accident, fire or natural disaster was interrupting service only one bus would be affected.

"If the situation warranted it we would, by means of this radio alarm system, have relief buses pick up the route on the clear side of the incident area," he said.

Prior noted that in another city a driver noticed a home on fire around 3 a.m. "He immediately called in the alarm and then left his bus to rouse the occupants of the home. This driver was credited with saving the lives of all occupants," Prior said.
